PRE-ISSUANCE PROCESS BASICS:

Pre-issuance is the last review of your project:

- Staff reviews all four plan sets to determine what changes were made and ensure that those changes do not impact another review;
- If changes during the review process that were NOT identified earlier, the plans are hand carried to that specific reviewer;
- All red lines and city stamps are transferred and are legible;
- Review that fees are accurate.

Timeframe for this process:

- Due to the current health emergency, the majority of Permitting Services staff are working from home with limited access to City resources. We appreciate your understanding during this difficult time;
- This review is completed in chronological order based upon the sign off date of the last technical review;
- The number of changes to the plan, the complexity of the project and the communication of the changes made to the plan can delay this process. Please assist us to make sure your plans are complete!
- Once your pre-issuance check is completed, we call the Applicant listed on the project and inform them the permit is ready to issue along with outstanding fees due.

Ways YOU can Help:

- Review your plans to determine that all changes have been called to city staff attention;
- Make sure that all redlines have been transferred;
- Check and make sure that all the sheets are in order and are complete.

Thank you for your patience and for confirming that your plans are complete!
